City Police intensify drunken driving tests

- 555 cases booked from February 2022
- With holidays, April saw 312 offences

Mysuru, Apr. 30 (RK&BCT)- Realising that random drunken driving checks are yielding no results, the City Police have intensified the checks every day where drivers are stopped and asked to take breath alcohol tests across the city.

After a gap of two years, the Police resumed drunken driving checks on all major roads from February this year. However, these checks were random and from February till Apr. 29, 555 cases were booked. Despite this, people continue to drive vehicles under the influence of alcohol leading to accidents, endangering other people's lives resulting in loss of lives and limbs.

"Now, teams have been conducting enforcement drives at various places in the city, flagging down drivers and asking them to blow air into a 'breathalyser' which determines the level of alcohol in one's blood. The tests were stopped in March 2020 after the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic in order to avoid the risk of transmission of the virus. We have decided to intensify the checks," City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta told Star of Mysore.

Over 20 breathalysers (alcometres) have been provided to Mysuru and they have been distributed among Devaraja, Krishnaraja, V.V. Puram, Narasimharaja and Siddharthanagar traffic divisions. "April alone saw 312 cases as there were a series of holidays and people usually consume alcohol a day before the holiday. Our objection is to them driving under the influence of alcohol. Let them not drive or maybe they can drink at home," the Commissioner said.

ACP (Traffic) S.E. Gangadharaswamy and his team of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors have set up barricades on all the main roads, ring road, the connecting roads to Mysuru and also the District, State and National Highways connecting Mysuru. This checking primarily begins at 10 pm and goes on till midnight.

Penalisation must to curb flex culture: MP Pratap Simha

'Crackdown on my own party leaders, workers'

Pratap Simha

Mysuru, Apr. 30 (RK&BCT)- Unauthorised flex boards and banners continue to crop up in the city and even the Chamundi Hill is not spared though the authorities have declared Mysuru as a "flex-free" city in tune with its tourism and heritage status.

Taking strong exception to the menace, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha has called for a crackdown on the menace and has asked the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and the District Administration to levy hefty fines and take action as per the Karnataka Open Places (Prevention of Disfigurement) Act, 1981 and The Karnataka Municipalities Act, 1964. "Don't even spare BJP leaders and party workers and no special treatment has to be meted out even if they are from my own party," he said.

Come festivals, birthdays of politicians and local leaders or conventions by political parties, groups and communities, the city is overrun by flexes and banners in every nook and corner.

These flex banners cause visual pollution and mar the ambience in which they have been installed and a majority of boards have life-size images of local followers of political leaders greeting people or wishing their leaders on their birthday.

Speaking to reporters, MP Simha said, "I have already spoken to the MCC authorities including the Commissioner to mercilessly take action against those who deface the city. Even a city like Bengaluru is relatively free of flex but it continues unabated in Mysuru. This must stop."

This is not the first time that the MP is speaking against flex culture in city. In the past too, he had directed official machinery not to spare anyone if they have violated rules and asked them to book BJP leaders and workers first in case they have disfigured the public places.

Rain havoc

Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary closed for two days from today

Srirangapatna, Apr. 30 (Vinay Karekura)- The rains accompanied by heavy winds and thunderstorms that lashed entire Srirangapatna last night has caused severe damages to properties and crops across the taluk.

Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary, which attracts lakhs of tourists every year near Palahalli in the taluk, was the worst hit as over 100 trees have got uprooted forcing the authorities to shut down the Sanctuary for at least two days (Apr. 30 and May 1).

Range Forest Officer Santosh Hoogar said that fully grown trees at the entrance to the Sanctuary and inside were uprooted due to last night's rains. As a result, the entry gate, ticket counter, museum and gopura at the entrance have been damaged.

"We are forced to close down the Sanctuary for visitors for at least two days to clear the trees and repair the damages. In the post-COVID times, the Sanctuary was gradually attracting more number of visitors, especially during weekends when tourists from other States thronged the Sanctuary. But now the strong winds have caused the unexpected and the Sanctuary is estimated to lose about Rs. 10 lakh revenue due to the temporary shutdown," he said adding that the closure may be extended by a day if found absolutely necessary.

This apart, a good number of roadside trees on either side of more than a kilometre stretch of the road leading from Paschimavahini to Ranganathittu too have got uprooted, disrupting vehicular movement on the road to the popular tourist destination.

Last night's thunder showers has also caused widespread damages elsewhere across the taluk with Belagola hobli being the worst affected. According to Belagola Revenue Inspector Umesh, more than 100 coconut, arecanut, mango and other trees have got destroyed and fully grown crops in a vast area of the hobli stand destroyed. Also, about three houses in Palahalli have partially got destroyed and they are now assessing the losses, Umesh said adding that a detailed report will be submitted to the higher authorities on the extent of damage of crops and other properties.

Most parts of Srirangapatna continued to be without power this morning too, as according to preliminary estimates, more than 50 electric poles have come crashing down and over a dozen transformers got burst in different parts of the taluk.

CESC AEE Manju Prasad said that the staff are busy in restoring power supplies that was cut off due to last night's rain havoc. It is hoped that electricity will be restored by this evening, he added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Both intuition and ego reside in our inner self and keep talking to and directing us from time to time. Yet, there is an unembellished difference between the two. Of the two, the voice emanating from our consciousness/divinity is the intuition and the other, which we mistake for the 'I', is the ego. Intuition is the direct perception of truth and proceeds on the assumption that you are safe/secure as you are, live in a world of abundance and a reservoir of happiness within yourself. It is centred in your heart needing no justification for its presence and operates from the subconscious terrain. We all have this mental/intellectual faculty, with varying degrees of intensity. When you listen to the voice of intuition, you open up yourself to the flow of love, inner peace and abundance.

Connected to intuition, you feel like you are powerful, full of courage and confidence. A sense of fulfilment pervades all over by showing that you are complete in yourself and need nothing more to make you happy.

We generally ignore intuition. However, scientists say that it is always right because it operates from our subconscious level, which stores unlimited information, knowledge and experience in greater measure, and connects these with each other in a fraction of a second while taking a decision.

Some of the techniques for strengthening intuition are meditation, prayer, never craving for appreciation, controlling emotions, spending time in nature, seeing God in everyone and everywhere, and surrendering to His will. Ego is ignorance based on an erroneous concept about who you really are. It is a false identity created by yourself and has no real existence. Rooted in fear, it keeps you apart from others and assumes that the world is unsafe and so you have always to be on your guard. Ego wants to have everything and everyone under its control. It wants domination and have a say on everything. It twists every argument, situation and even fact to suit its self-interest. It is ready to do anything, including putting on the garb of intuition, to control and mislead you for its own survival. When under the control of the ego, you feel fearful, uncomfortable and shaky. So, keep it aside and in control because it can only disturb, scare and distress you. Listen to intuition and the ego will automatically diminish and disappear.

REALLY...?

- A Dentist invented Cotton Candy: You wouldn't expect a dentist to be responsible for helping to pioneer a new type of candy, although maybe he was hoping it would drum up some cavity-related business. In 1897, dentist William Morrison partnered with confectioner John C. Wharton to devise a machine that used centrifugal force to turn sugar into cotton-like strands. The result was cotton candy, but that name didn't come until the 1920s. Morrison and Wharton called their treat "Fairy Floss."

Plea to depute adequate staff at Saraswathipuram Post Office

Sir,

I visited the Head Post Office in Saraswathipuram recently in connection with my savings bank account.

Most of the days there is a long wait of not less than an hour and even I had to wait for my work.

People are provided with a token and chairs to be seated at the Post Office.

But it is sad to see the senior citizens, some older than 80 years, patiently waiting for their turn.

The staff, including the Post-Master are very co-operative unlike many others and I also understand that the delay in work is due to the shortage of staff.

The authorities concerned are requested to post or depute adequate staff so that the senior citizens may avoid the ordeal of waiting for long hours.

WHAT IS A HEART BLOCK ?

Heart block is when the heart beats more slowly or with an abnormal rhythm. Symptoms depend on severity. 1st-degree may not cause any symptoms; 2nd-degree sometimes causes troublesome symptoms; 3rd-degree can be a medical emergency. Symptoms include giddiness, brief episodes of loss of consciousness, fatigue, tiredness, and shortness of breath. It is primarily a disease of the elderly aged>60yrs; commonly due to degeneration of conduction bundle, heart attack, certain drugs and toxins, post-cardiac surgery and rarely, it can be congenital/ at birth. Diagnosis can be made by analysing a simple ECG or sometimes using a loop recorder. Heart block typically only needs to be treated if it's causing symptoms. Depending on the cause of the heart block and your symptoms, you may need to have a small device called a pacemaker fitted in your chest. A pacemaker is a small battery-operated device inserted under the skin of your chest. It sends frequent electrical pulses to keep your heart beating regularly. Treatment for heart block usually works well. Most people live everyday active life with a pacemaker.

Man kills 8-month-old niece
by smashing its head with weighing stone

He was enraged as his family refused to give him money to buy liquor

Mysuru, Apr. 30 (RK&BCT)- A pervert addicted to liquor smashed the head of his niece (sister's daughter) as the family refused to give him money to consume alcohol. The eight-month-old girl child was sleeping when the pervert took a block weighing stone and assaulted the little one. He fled the spot after the crime.

Accused Raju

The incident was reported from Vidyaranyapuram Police Station jurisdiction at Kanakagiri near the Government School. 33-year-old Raju, a chronic drunkard, used to sell vegetables for a living. As the income from the trade was not sufficient to fund his vices, he used to demand money from his parents.

He used to often quarrel with his parents and sister Ramya, who was at her parents house for neonatal care, and used to assault them if money was not provided. The family tried many means to counsel Raju but he refused to give up his habit.

Yesterday, Raju returned home early in the afternoon and picked up a fight with his parents and sister, demanding money. Unable to give him money and sustain his abuses and beatings, the parents and sister rushed out of the house.

Enraged by their behaviour, Raju saw Ramya's kid sleeping on a bed and in a fit of rage, he picked up a weighing stone and smashed the girl child's head. He later fled the scene. After he left, the unsuspecting family members entered the house only to see the dead child with a blood-soaked head.

A commotion broke loose in the locality as the family was crying for help. Neighbours rushed to the scene and they realised that the child had passed away. They informed Vidyaranyapuram Police. Inspector Raju and team visited the spot and conducted a mahazar to register a murder case.

The child's father Nagendra was informed and he came with his relatives. Ramya had married Nagendra from Sathanur in Mandya one-and-a-half years back. Ramya had come to her parents house for delivery and had stayed there for some months. She is shell-shocked as her own brother had killed her little child.

Vidyaranyapuram Police are on the lookout for Raju and are searching his likely hideouts. They are making enquiries at his regular liquor joints and eliciting information from his friends.

Government annuls PSI exam results
Re-exam date to be announced soon

Bengaluru, Apr. 30 (KMS&DM)- Just hours after the kingpin of the PSI recruitment scam Divya Hagaragi was arrested from Pune, the Government on Friday annulled the results of PSI exam which was held for recruitment of 545 Police Sub-Inspectors (PSIs).

Announcing this at a press meet here yesterday, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said that the Government has decided to conduct a re-exam for aspirants.

Pointing out that 54,289 candidates had appeared for the PSI written exam, Jnanendra said that all these candidates will be allowed to write the re-exam, the date of which will be announced shortly. However, those candidates arrested by the CID will be kept out of the re-exam, he added.

Defending the decision to conduct the re-exam, the Home Minister said that this will give an opportunity for honest and talented candidates.

Pointing out that the decision to hold re-exam was taken based on suspicions that irregularities may have taken place in many centres, he said that the Department will take all necessary measures to stop any irregularities or malpractices in the conduct of exam.

H.D. Kumaraswamy opposes re-exam

Meanwhile, former Chief Minister and JD(S) leader H.D. Kumaraswamy has opposed holding of re-exam for PSI recruitment.

Speaking to press persons at Hubballi after a few aggrieved PSI aspirants met him over re-exam issue here on Friday, Kumaraswamy opined that it is not right to annul the entire exam results due to the follies committed by some.

Wondering why the Government was in a hurry to announce the re-exam when the CID probe into the scam is still underway, the former CM maintained that the Government was at fault.

Wanting the Government to punish only those involved in the recruitment scam, he said that it is not right to ignore the efforts made by honest candidates to qualify in the exam.

Questioning the Government on whether it totally guarantees a fair and transparent re-exam, Kumaraswamy held the Government and officials responsible for the irregularities. Re-iterating his opposition to the annulment of PSI exam results, the former CM observed that the annulment is a grave injustice meted out to honest candidates.

Akshaya Tritiya: City jewellers pray for golden days to return

Mysuru, Apr. 30 (RK&BCT)- Akshaya Tritiya, one of the most auspicious occasions in the Hindu calendar, will be celebrated on May 3 this year. Many people start new business ventures on this day and also buy valuables including gold, diamond and silver.

Akshaya Tritiya falls on Shukla Paksha Tritiya of the Vaishnava month and people welcome Goddess Lakshmi on this day by purchasing metals like gold. People believe that whatever one buys on this occasion stays forever.

According to astrologers, this year, the muhurat for Akshaya Tritiya will start at 5.39 am on May 3 and continue till 5.38 am on May 4.

Star of Mysore spoke to a section of gold and diamond traders in Mysuru yesterday on the gold buying trend. While jewellers are pinning their hopes on Sunday and Monday for a sales boost, evidence suggests that customers are shying away from gold purchase due to various factors.

Chandrashekar, Marketing Manager, Bhima Jewels, B.N. (Bengaluru-Nilgiri) Road, said that when compared to Akshaya Tritiya during the pre-pandemic levels, business has picked up since the last two days. "We are offering attractive discounts to customers on gold and diamond purchases and this too has increased walk-ins to the store. We are hopeful that the sales will increase two or three days before the festival," he added.

Spike in next two days

Sharafuddin, Store Manager, Malabar Gold & Diamonds, B.N. Road, said "The sales have not touched pre-COVID levels. We faced losses for two years and compared to that situation, the figures are looking up. We have good offers and still there is time for sales to pick up. Earlier, there would be huge bookings days ahead of Akshaya Tritiya and it used to spike two to three days before the festival."

Response has been encouraging at Jos Alukkas on B.N. Road. "After two years of pandemic, it looks like people have been waiting for gold purchase during Akshaya Tritiya. We are seeing many bookings and walk-ins will pick up on Sunday and Monday. Our staff have been told that there will be heavy rush and we have taken all measures to handle the crowd and also deliver the product," said Sio, Jos Alukkas Store Manager.

Next-Gen priorities

"The priorities of next generation are changing and maybe they are not giving importance to gold purchase. As traders we have to devise new strategies to woo customers and that is the reason we have interlinked gold, diamond and silver purchases to attract buyers," said Adarsh K. Murthy, Managing Director, A. Shankara Chetty and Sons, K.R. Circle.

"Pre-pandemic sales were very good and in the last two years we lost business. This year till now, it is below average. Earlier, there used to be a lot of advance bookings. I think people still have the fear of the fourth wave and are saving money for emergencies," he said.

Drunken driving tests intensified

"Taking advantage of the suspension of breathalyser tests, many motorists in the city limits began driving after downing one too many pegs. There were several accidents reported due to drunken driving where motorists were ramming into road dividers, medians, electric poles or trees," City Top Cop Dr. Chandragupta added.

Drunk driving is an offence punishable by imprisonment of up to six months and a minimum fine of Rs. 10,000. Not every vehicle on the road is checked. "We only check those which we find are being driven in a suspicious manner," ACP (Traffic) Gangadharaswamy said.

As soon as the offender is caught consuming liquor in excess, a printout of the offence is given to them and a copy is sent to the RTO for the suspension of licence. In cases of drunk driving, the offender has to pay a fine in the Court of law along with other offences in case there are violations in driving licence, lack of documents, etc.

Akshaya Tritiya

Tanishq Jewellery, B.N. Road

Balakrishnan, Store Assistant Manager, Joyalukkas, B.N. Road, said that customers have increased to the store since the last one week. "The last Akshaya Tritiya was in 2019 and then COVID came. This year, we are expecting more crowds. We have customers for ready-purchase and also bookings. Plus there are telephone enquiries asking for attractive offers. We are expecting an increase in timings as we will open from 8 am," he said.

Liquidity crunch in market

Tholasi Jewels (V.V. Mohalla) Managing Partner Harshanandana Tholasi says that the response has been average. "Nothing great as we had a couple of years back. There is a liquidity crunch in the market and people are feeling insecure to spend on gold and diamonds. Also, people have a feeling that COVID has not gone yet and they would need money to buy essentials like medicines and bear hospitalisation charges," he said.

"We are pinning hopes on the last two days. Even in pre-COVID period, we had average sales before the festival and on the day of the festival, we had a huge rush," Harshanandana added.

Kalyan Jewellers at Lashkar Mohalla has pretty good walk-ins and also bookings. "But gold rates are high now. Otherwise, there would have been an overwhelming response. Now after two years, wedding season has started and people will compulsorily purchase gold. Akshaya Tritiya tempo will last for a week or so and wedding purchases will continue," revealed Ranjith, Store Manager.

Best price all year round

Prakash Jewellers on Shivarampet Road offers the best price 365 days. "We are a trusted brand and we don't have any special offers. People can compare our prices with other shops and make a purchase. Business has been good. We are getting calls from regular customers and many guest customers are also making enquiries," said Sachith, Manager.

Vinod, Store Manager, Tanishq Jewellery, B.N. Road, said sales are good at the outlet and they are expecting more takers for the exquisite designs. "The last two years were a washout. Now we are seeing a lot of bookings and also in-store customers. This year, Akshaya Tritiya has come at the beginning of the month and we have a Sunday and a Monday before the festival. Sales will get a boost on those days," he added.

People still troubled

Prasanna Kumar from Raj Diamonds on D. Devaraj Urs Road said that business has been average and when compared to the last two years, the sales are good. People are still under trouble and there is a threat of fourth wave too, he said.

Deepak of Jewel Mandir on D. Devaraj Urs Road said, "Clearly it is not going to be the Akshaya Tritiya where one will see people rushing to buy gold because the price point has still not been accepted by consumers. Gold prices are high and people must have the budget to buy. We had high expectations and sales are disappointing. Moreover, it is difficult to predict people's mentality."

600 outlets in Mysuru

President of Mysuru Shroff Association (Jewellers Association) C.S. Amarnath said that during the pre-pandemic period, there would be 400 to 500 bookings three to four days in advance. "This time there is no pre-COVID charm in gold purchase and it will take time," he said. Amarnath is also a partner for Lalitha Jewellery Mart on Ashoka Road.

"There are over 600 gold and diamond outlets in Mysuru, big and small and our enquiries across the board have revealed that sales are yet to pick up after COVID. We are hoping for the best in the next three days," he added.

Heavy rains, gusty winds uproot trees in city

Electric poles, transformers, vehicles damaged

Mysuru, Apr. 30 (RK&DM)- The heavy rains, accompanied by thunder, lightning and gusty winds, that lashed the city last night, has resulted in uprooting of trees in many localities and minor damages to a few houses too. Fortunately, no casualties were reported from any part of the city.

Most parts of the city plunged into darkness for well over five hours as several electric poles too got damaged and transformers got burst. The CESC authorities immediately cut-off power supplies in many localities as a precautionary measure and electricity was restored only after well-past midnight following repairs.

More than 20 roadside trees were uprooted, mainly in localities such as Bannimantap, Muneshwaranagar, N.R. Mohalla, Gandhinagar, Kyathamaranahalli,Gourishankarnagar, Kuvempunagar, Niveditanagar, T.K. Layout, Kurubarahalli Circle and J.P. Nagar.

MCC Abhaya team swung into action by removing the trees or branches that had fallen on to the roads, blocking traffic.

A tree fell upon a parked car in Gandhinagar 5th Cross, resulting in damages to the car and other vehicles parked closeby, while at least five electric poles were damaged in Kesare as tree trunks fell upon them.

A huge branch of a tree that fell on Udayaravi Road in Kuvempunagar resulted in disruption of traffic on the busy road. MCC's Abhaya team rushed to the spot and cleared the tree branch to restore vehicular movement.

Another tree was uprooted at Government School in Naganahalli on the outskirts of the city. Bannimantap Fire Brigade personnel led by Fire Officer Shivaswamy rushed to the spot and cleared the tree.

This apart, many low-lying areas of the city reported water logging, with storm water gushing into homes and causing hardship to the residents. Water gushed into many homes in Amruth Layout, where JNNURM houses are built.

MCC approves piped gas project amidst din

Cloth bag distribution project to all households scrapped

Mysuru, Apr. 30 (SBD&BCT)- Amidst acrimonious scenes over the authority of the Mayor in conducting a Council Meeting in the wake of Mayoral term expiring in February, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Council last evening gave its assent for piped gas supply for individual households in the city.

The project that had begun in earnest on the outskirts of the city faced rough weather to make an entry into city areas as two BJP MLAs had openly opposed the project over the issue of restoration of roads after the digging works to lay pipes. However, the open squabble was sorted out internally among MLAs and MP Pratap Simha, a strong advocate of the project.

The Council meeting was called by Mayor Sunanda Palanetra at Nalwadi Hall and right at the beginning, Corporators questioned her authority of calling for a meeting though her term had expired in February.

A section of Congress and JD(S) members created ruckus and claimed that as the tenure of Sunanda Palanetra (BJP) was over, any decision taken including implementation of piped gas scheme would be infructuous.

The meeting was postponed to 3.30 due to lack of quorum and again after it began, the din continued. Due to pandemonium, the meeting was postponed from 4.50 pm to 5.50 pm. Though chaos continued, the Mayor announced that the Council has approved the piped gas project, much to the chagrin of the agitating members. It is a Central Government project to supply piped gas to all homes in Mysuru. The Mayor announced that as the Council has approved it, the executive order will be issued to proceed with the works without waiting for the 'read and record' process.

Taking objection to the way the Council has passed the piped gas project without even elected representatives discussing it elaborately, the Congress and JD(S) members staged a protest in the well of the House, shouting slogans against the BJP and the State Government.

According to a clarification issued to agitating members by MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, as per the Karnataka Municipal Corporation Act-1976, though the Mayor's term of one year has expired, the person holding the Mayor's post can continue in that post till the new Mayor is chosen.

"There is no relevance to 'incharge Mayor' and till the next Mayoral elections, the Mayor and Deputy Mayor will remain in the posts. Even the powers of the Standing Committee Chairpersons will continue till the new Committees are elected. Mayor Sunanda Palanetra's term began on Feb. 23, 2021 and ended on Feb. 23, 2022. As the elections for the new Mayor have not been held, she will remain as Mayor till such time with powers to call a Council meeting," the Commissioner clarified.

Apart from approving piped gas project, the Council decided to impose simple interest for non-payment of water bills instead of levying compound interest by rounding off previous month's bill amount and the principal interest rate. Henceforth, simple interest will be levied at one percent on the bill amount.

Also, the Council has quashed work order of distributing two cloth bags to each house within MCC limits. These announcements were made by the Mayor.
